

EXCLUSIVE BONUS · FOR KENYAN SHOP OWNERS

WHATSAPP SELLING SECRETS

Turn the app you already use every day
into your shop's best salesperson

STOCKMASTER

A bonus guide for StockMaster customers · Not for resale

Why WhatsApp Is Your Secret Weapon

You don't need a website. You don't need to pay for ads. Nearly every customer who walks into your shop already has WhatsApp open in their pocket — and checks it many times a day. The shops that learn to sell through WhatsApp get orders before competitors even open their doors.

This guide shows you, step by step, how to set up WhatsApp Business (free), build a customer list, and use three simple tools — Status, Broadcast and Catalog — to bring in repeat sales every week. Copy-and-paste message templates included.

STEP 1

Set Up WhatsApp Business in 15 Minutes

WhatsApp Business is a free app, separate from your personal WhatsApp. It looks the same but adds business tools. You can use a different SIM for it, or migrate your current number.

Your setup checklist

- Download "WhatsApp Business" from Play Store or App Store (it's free).
- Business name: use your real shop name — the one customers know.
- Profile photo: a clear photo of your shop front or your logo. Not a selfie.
- Category: choose "Grocery store" or the closest match.
- Description: one line, e.g. "Fresh stock daily. Order on WhatsApp, pick up in minutes. Lipa na M-Pesa."
- Business hours & location: fill them in — customers check before coming.
- Greeting message (auto-reply): switch it on so new customers get an instant response (template on the next pages).

PRO MOVE

Print a small sign for your counter: "Order by WhatsApp: 07XX XXX XXX — we'll have it ready for pickup!" and share your number with every customer who pays.

STEP 2

Build Your Customer List (Your Real Asset)

A shop with 200 customers on WhatsApp can create sales any day it wants, with one message. Building that list is the most valuable marketing work you will ever do — and it's free.

How to get numbers without being pushy

- Ask at the till: "Can I add you to our WhatsApp? I share offers before anyone else sees them."
- Give a reason to say yes: first-time discount, early access to new stock, or free delivery nearby.
- Save every deni customer — you need their number anyway for reminders.
- Use labels (a WhatsApp Business feature): tag customers as "Regular", "Bulk buyer", "Deni", "New". Later you can send the right message to the right group.

IMPORTANT RULE

Always ask permission before adding anyone to broadcasts, and stop messaging anyone who asks. One unwanted message can lose a customer; respect keeps them for years.

YOUR SPREADSHEET CONNECTS HERE

Every number you collect goes into the Customer Register sheet. The sheet shows who your top spenders are — those are the first people to add to your VIP broadcast list.

STEP 3

Status: Your Free Daily Shop Window

WhatsApp Status is the most underused sales tool in Kenya. Everyone watches statuses — so put your shop in front of their eyes every day. It costs nothing and takes two minutes.

What to post (rotate these)

- Fresh arrivals: photo of new stock the moment it lands. "Fresh maziwa imefika!"
- Today's deal: one product, small discount, today only. Urgency sells.
- Price wins: "Sukari 1kg @ 185 bob this week only."
- Behind the scenes: your shop opening, shelves being restocked — it builds trust and reminds people you exist.
- Customer moments (with permission): "Mama Achieng's order ready for pickup!"

Status rules that work

- Post once or twice a day, ideally 7–8am (before people shop) and 5–6pm (as they head home).
- Always include the price. Statuses without prices get views; statuses with prices get orders.
- End with a call to action: "Reply to order" or "Ni hayo tu — karibu!"

STEP 4

Broadcast Lists: One Message, Many Sales

A broadcast list sends one message to many customers, but each person receives it as a private chat — no groups, no noise. It's the closest thing to free advertising that exists. Note: only people who have saved your number receive broadcasts — another reason to give customers a reason to save it.

Copy-and-paste templates

1. Welcome / auto-greeting:

TEMPLATE

Karibu to [Shop Name]! Thanks for reaching out. Send us your order and we'll confirm price and pickup time within minutes. Lipa na M-Pesa: [Till/Number]. Open [hours], every day.

Tip: when you paste these into WhatsApp, add one or two emojis (a fire, a milk bottle, a folded-hands thank-you) - messages with a touch of emoji feel personal and get more replies.

2. Weekly offer blast:

TEMPLATE

Habari [name]! This week at [Shop Name]: Cooking oil 1L @ KSh 330 (was 340) · Unga 2kg @ KSh 180. Offer ends Sunday. Reply with your order and pick it up ready-packed. Asante!

3. Fresh stock alert (VIP list):

TEMPLATE

Good news [name] — fresh [product] just arrived and you're hearing it first. Want me to keep some aside for you? Just reply YES and your quantity.

4. Polite deni reminder:

TEMPLATE

Habari [name]! Gentle reminder of the KSh [amount] balance at [Shop Name]. You can clear it anytime via M-Pesa [number]. Asante sana for your continued support!

5. Win-back message (customer gone quiet):

TEMPLATE

Habari [name], tumeku-miss at [Shop Name]! This week we have [offer]. Karibu tena — your usual [product] is in stock.

STEP 5

Taking Orders Like a Pro

The magic formula for WhatsApp orders is speed and clarity. Customers order on WhatsApp because it saves them time — so your process must be fast.

The 4-message order flow

- Customer orders: "Nataka unga 2, mafuta 1L, bread 2."
- You confirm with the total: "Sawa! Unga 2 @180 = 360, Oil 1L = 330, Bread 2 @70 = 140. Total: KSh 830. Pickup or delivery?"
- Payment: "Lipa na M-Pesa [number/Till] or pay cash at pickup."
- Ready notice: "Order iko ready! Karibu."

Use the Invoice sheet (Ultimate pack) to generate a clean receipt for bigger orders — type the products, print or save as PDF, and send it right in the chat. It makes your shop look twice as professional as the competition.

YOUR SPREADSHEET CONNECTS HERE

Every WhatsApp order is a sale — record it in Daily Sales like any other, with the customer's name. Over time, your Customer Register reveals your best WhatsApp buyers, and the Best Sellers sheet tells you exactly which products to promote in your next broadcast.

Your 7-Day WhatsApp Launch Plan

Day	Action
Day 1	Install WhatsApp Business, complete your profile, switch on the greeting message
Day 2	Print the counter sign; start asking every paying customer to save your number
Day 3	Post your first Status: today's deal with a price and a call to action
Day 4	Create your first broadcast list with your 20 best customers (check the Customer Register)
Day 5	Send the weekly offer template — your first blast
Day 6	Take your first WhatsApp orders using the 4-message flow
Day 7	Record the week's WhatsApp sales in Daily Sales — see the new revenue for yourself

Shops that follow this system typically see WhatsApp become one of their top sales channels within a month or two — with zero advertising cost. The tools are free; the habit is the investment.

© 2025 StockMaster. Free bonus for StockMaster customers — not for resale. WhatsApp is a trademark of its respective owner; this guide is not affiliated with or endorsed by WhatsApp.